

Thomas Sutterfield, Esquire, Lawyer:

- Lives in Hyde Park with wife and two children.
- Only member of his immediate family to contract cholera.
- Won most recent case, defending a Broad Street butcher accused of selling spoiled meat.
- Recovering.

Matilda Wright, wealthy 90-year-old woman

- Lives alone (with her three servants) in the family mansion in Marston Court.
- Great-aunt of Thomas Sutterfield.
- Only member of household to contract cholera.
- Is very sick with cholera.

Tolly Martin, 10 years old, professional pickpocket

- Homeless orphan who sleeps in doorways around Soho Square.
- Occasionally roams far from Soho, looking for wealthier clients to rob.
- Has been very sick from cholera two days after a fistfight with another boy at Broad Street Square.

Owen and Obedience Turner and their three children

- Lives on Paddy Lane behind butcher shop on Broad Street.
- Owen Turner earns small change cleaning the butcher's shop.
- Entire family is very sick with cholera.

Nine Families on Butcher Lane

- 45 individuals very sick with cholera.

Twelve Families on Ely Street

- 70 individuals very sick with cholera.

Slye Children, ages 7, 8, and 10

- Three of the 8 children of Gideon and Lucy Slye.
- Gideon Slye is a Broad Street butcher accused of selling spoiled meat.
- Slye family recently moved to Kings Cross from Broad Street and now has indoor plumbing.
- When not in school, three of the Slye children often accompany their father to work and play on the Broad Street Square.
- These three children are the only family members to contract cholera.

Mucky Johnson, 18, delivery boy from Coventry Circle

- Delivered fresh seafood from Coventry Market to wealthy homes in Marston Court.
- Often stopped to eat lunch and talk to people on Broad Street Square; said the water from the Broad Street pump was the best in the city.
- Became very ill from cholera.

John and Mary Canty, tinkers from Soho

- Pull their cart through wealthy neighborhoods, mending pots and pans for the well-to-do.
- Often stopped to visit John's ailing mother, who lives on Butcher Lane.
- Both became very ill from cholera.

Twenty-five families on Queens Row

- 120 individuals very sick from cholera.

Eighteen families on Paddy Lane

- 91 individuals very sick from cholera.